EDITORIALS

Kemper coal plant viable

Mississippi's campaign against the climate conducive to building a coal-fired power plant to burn lignite. It's a mistake, and we'll be heard.

Baron siding with the Blue Jay families who have already realized their vision and whose efforts have culminated in a viable and cleaner energy source.

COAL WILSON

Romney and Ryan reformers

Georgetown Romney's slogan of "less government, less spending, less taxes" is听着. It's not the same thing as "cutting social spending", which is the slogan of the politicians. In fact, the last one is not the slogan of any politician.

By picking Ryan, Romney has shown that he's the most conservative candidate in the field. In a state where government and corruption are so prevalent, a politician who has been in Congress and who is known for his conservative beliefs is a welcome addition to the ticket. Ryan, a former budget chairman, has been a leader in efforts to reduce the size of the federal government and to reduce the debt.

The people we're voting for are the people we can trust to handle our tax dollars and to make the right decisions for our country. They're the people who have the experience and the knowledge to do the job.

It's Romney's duty to deliver on his promises. Ryan is the perfect choice for the job.

Richard Lourie

Kerry's gaffe and the Russians

Now that John Kerry is the secretary of state, it's his job to explain the situation in Russia. In fact, the last time he made this announcement in 2011, it was under the rubric of "Russia's nuclear weapons program".

In this case, the story is a little different. The US government and the Europeans have been talking about the situation in Russia for some time now. It's not a new story, but it's been a story that has been covered by the media.

The US government and the Europeans have been talking about the situation in Russia for some time now. It's not a new story, but it's been a story that has been covered by the media.

The US government and the Europeans have been talking about the situation in Russia for some time now. It's not a new story, but it's been a story that has been covered by the media.

The US government and the Europeans have been talking about the situation in Russia for some time now. It's not a new story, but it's been a story that has been covered by the media.

The US government and the Europeans have been talking about the situation in Russia for some time now. It's not a new story, but it's been a story that has been covered by the media.